June 2010

Dear Hunger Advocate,

Want to help end hunger in Alaska? Feel like you should be doing more than just giving out food?

YOU SHOULD! JOIN THE ALASKA FOOD COALITION TODAY
TO FIND OUT HOW YOU CAN HELP END HUNGER IN ALASKA!

Hunger is an issue in every single community in Alaska. The Alaska Food Coalition is a statewide group of 90 nonprofit, faith-based and state agencies that are working hard every day to help end hunger in Alaska.

Alaska Food Coalition Member Benefits:

- Access to a network of anti-hunger agencies throughout Alaska
- Opportunity to form relationships and share best practices with government and charitable agencies involved in anti-hunger work
- Information and research about anti-hunger efforts in Alaska
- Collaboration in the future of the coalition's statewide anti-hunger work
- Platform to inform the public, legislators and opinion makers on issues of hunger
- Access to a mini-grant that will give funds for capacity building and is only available to member organizations

All agency members are invited to attend the Annual Meeting, held each February in Juneau, and can apply for a scholarship to cover travel costs. Inclusion in all Alaska Food Coalition meetings, teleconference calls, website updates and email newsletters will give your agency a chance to expand your organization and build opportunities to make a difference.

If you are interested in becoming a member of the Alaska Food Coalition, please fill out the enclosed form and return it, along with your payment, to the address listed on the form by September 1, 2010. Make checks payable to our fiscal manager, Food Bank of Alaska.

For questions or comments, please contact Vanessa Salinas, 2121 Spar Ave, Anchorage, AK 99501-1855, Alaska Food Coalition Manager, 907-222-3103 or afc@foodbankofalaska.org.

Sincerely,

Vanessa Salinas
Alaska Food Coalition Manager
